

THE ADVOCATE.

KANSAS.

As It Looks To Our Friend, B. T. Bean, Since the Election.

A Good Word For Sister Lease and Sockless Simpson.

He Want's Charley Glover For Postmaster.

Amid the general rejoicing of the Democrats throughout the United States over the great triumph of the people at the late election, Democrats outside of the State of Kansas, have but a slight conception of our joy, at the breaking up of the g. o. p., and the complete rout of its followers. Every State office has been wrested from their clutches, and a new deal from Governor to Janitor, will be inaugurated at Topeka, in the near future. Nothing will be left to remain one of their supreme and arrogant aulos, save the obnoxious laws left behind and the many other monuments of folly, prejudice and extravagance in which that party so much delighted. But they did not yield without a struggle—a struggle, so desperate, so continuous and supported by such vast sums of money, that at times I trembled for our cause. No scheme was too extravagant for them to tackle; no charge too base for them to circulate; no claim too unreasonable for them to make.

The incoming returns showing their cause was lost, but made them the more sturdy in their assertions that they had gained the day. Official returns from the counties had no influence upon them. The Topeka count was what they wanted, and that same Topeka count, has given the lower House to the Republicans, though the people at the polls declared against them. That the Populists will make a most determined effort to seat their men is evident, and I have a faint hope, that right for once will prevail in a political sense, though the State be Kansas. But be assured of one thing, after March 4th, Kansas will not have a Republican Senator in Washington City. Hoping to produce discord and trouble between the Democrats and Populists, the Republicans put in nomination for the United States Senate, the name of Mrs. Mary E. Lease, of this city. She has declined to enter the race, and so stated last week in a letter. But she is a most remarkable woman and has rendered most valuable service to her party in this State. She is one of the brightest and quickest witted women I have ever known, and her knowledge of public men and affairs was a revelation to me. My education and life in the South, will not permit me to look with special favor, upon women in public; nor, am I an advocate of that aged chestnut "woman's rights," for I have always thought, she had all the rights she could manage, and if wanting more, she has but to get married and take full swing. Mrs. Lease went South very much against her better judgement. She knew more of the ideas held by those people, than her managers and her friends now know that trip had best never been made.

Another national character, who has risen up from the plains of Kansas, and caused more joy and general rejoicing among his friends, than any other being, and a corresponding "sinking of the heart" among his enemies, is that unique specimen known as the Sockless Simpson. No other man in the United States has been so abused, traduced and vilified, and no other man deserved so little of it. He is a splendid man, and Kansas has no better or abler representative in Congress than him. The magnificity that has been heaped upon him by the Republican press and the many downright falsehoods sent broadcast over the land about him, and this abuse of his own State and people, have been gathered up and kept rolling by a too credulous Republican people, who in many cases really and truly believed all they heard and read. But I am glad to note, a better political feeling is growing among our Republican people, and as soon as Kansas laws permit rebel soldiers to vote, this will be a first-rate place for a rebel or any other animal.

I am glad to see that my old book-keeper, Charley Glover, is in the race for the post-office. He is one of the best and truest Democrats within the State—for ten years I cultivated his Democracy and know it to be of the genuine deep rooted kind. Wish I could write the same of Charley Thompson. Can't, for the life of me, see how he can keep so hale and hearty, carrying such political notions from day to day. His shouting Methodist proclivities may be his redeeming traits, but I must confess, he is taxing his religion beyond all just limits. But of Charley Glover, I must say I know of no one better qualified to take charge of the post-office. His business pursuits for fifteen years have fully prepared him for the work in the office, and his pleasant genial manner, are a guarantee that no complaints would ever be brought against him. Give him the post-office by all means. Mt. Sterling can not do better, though she search the ground over a hundred times.

Trusting in my trip to my old home to have the pleasure of waiting hat in hand before his Post-office window. I am

Yours Truly,

B. T. BEAN.

Curious and Useful Plants.

From Eastern Asia comes a plant, the flowers of which contain a quantity of juice that rapidly turns black or deep purple. It is used by Chinese ladies for dyeing their hair and eyebrows, and in Java for blacking shoes.

Decidedly remarkable is the camphor tree, from which camphor is prepared by boiling the chopped branches in water. It is mainly produced in the island of Formosa. Inasmuch as it grows well in the Southern States there is reason to believe that the preparation of camphor will some day become a profitable industry in this country. The arnolia plant has seeds coated with red, waxy pulp, which is dried and made into cakes. It is much employed by the South American Caribs for painting their bodies, paint being almost their only article of dishing. As a commercial article it is mainly utilized as coloring for cheese, butter and inferior chocolates.

From India comes the Khin-Khin-grass, the fibrous roots of which yield a very peculiar and pleasing perfume. In India the leaves are manufactured into screens for doors and windows, which when wet diffuse a refreshing scent.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic for the Week Beginning Jan. 23.
Comment by Rev. A. M. Doyle.
Topic—God's covenant. If this will, * * *
Covenant is a promise. It is a promise made by God to man, and man to God. It is a promise made by God to man, and man to God. It is a promise made by God to man, and man to God.

December 16, 1862. Gen. Butler was recalled from New Orleans by President Lincoln. Never the close of 1863 he was placed in charge of the Department of Virginia and North Carolina. In October, 1864, he was sent to New York with troops to insure quiet at the election.

In December he conducted an unsuccessful expedition against Fort Fisher, near Wilmington, N. C. and was soon after removed from office by General Grant.

Returning to Massachusetts he was elected by the Republicans a member of Congress in 1866, where he remained till 1879, with the exception of the term for 1875-7. He was the most active of the managers appointed in 1863 by the House of Representatives to conduct the impeachment of President Johnson. He was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for Governor of Massachusetts in 1871; and in 1878 and 1879, having changed his politics, was a candidate of the Independent party and one wing of the Democratic party for the same office, but was again defeated. In 1882 the Democrats elected him Governor, though the vote of the State ticket was beaten.

In 1883 he was re-elected, but was defeated. In 1884 he was the candidate of the Greenback and anti-monomopoly parties for the Presidency, and received $3,825 votes. His wife, Sarah, daughter of Dr. Israel Hildreth of Lowell, died in Boston in 1876. She was on the stage from 1837 to 1842, when she married Gen. Butler and retired. Their daughter married Gen. Adelbert Ames, of the United States Army.

Jack-on Pensions.
(From the Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
President Andrew Jackson certainly could not be accused of want of sympathy for the old soldiers of the country, but he placed himself on record in the matter of pension in a way that can not be misunderstood. In his message to Congress in 1834 he said: "I recommend that an actual inspection should be made in each State into the circumstances and claims of every person now drawing a pension. The honest veteran has nothing to fear from such scrutiny, while the fraudulent claimant will be detected and the public Treasury relieved to an amount I have reason to believe far greater than has heretofore been supposed."

That is exactly what the advocates of pension reform are now suggesting. They recommend an actual inspection into the circumstances and claims of every person now drawing a pension. That recommendation is urged by soldiers who fought bravely throughout war in which pensions have been given to the unworthy, and to those who have no more claim on the public funds than the millions of others who get nothing out of the Treasury which they have been taxed to fill. They know that the honest veteran has nothing to fear from such scrutiny.

The District Court of Wyanotite County, Kas., decided that the lease of the famous Cherokee Strip outlet was illegal and void. The case was brought by the Cherokee Strip and Live Stock Association against J. V. Andrews and others to collect $30,000 for the use of grazing land in the strip leased from the association. The outlet strip comprises 6,000,000 acres.

Happy Hoosiers.
William Timmons, Postmaster of Lisle, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that had feeling arising from kidney and liver troubles." John Leslie, farmer and stockman of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best kidney and liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner hardware merchant, same town, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 30 cents a bottle, at W. S. Lloyd's druggists."

Senator John E. Kenna of West Virginia is dead from heart disease.

Jas. Kewee a burglar and sneak thief has been captured and jailed at Pineville.

In this issue is an interesting letter from our friend R. T. Bean, of Wichita Kansas.

James Lane has rented the E. O. Over residence on Sycamore street and will take possession in a few days.

Since the agitation of the probable election of a U. S. Senator in the very near future, there are lots of people up this way, who are for Gov. Brown to stay—where he is.

The Kentucky Baptist published by Rev. Nash has been located at Louisville. Mr. Nash will also become a pastor of one of the Baptist churches of that city.

It is estimated that the profit which the Government will make on the sales of the new Columbian postage stamps will more than cover all the expenses of the Government exhibit at the Chicago Exposition.

The population of London now exceeds that of New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Chicago combined, and these four are the only American cities having one million are more inhabitants.

The intensely cold weather that has prevailed for the past ten days, has had a very depressing effect on business in this city. The fact is, Mr. Sterling, all last week, looked almost as deserted and lonesome as Winchester does on a County Court Day.

Rev. Cleon Keys, Financial Agent of the Bracken Missionary Board, preached at the Baptist Church last Sunday morning and evening. He will be here for several days raising money for this work. The Bracken Board will meet at Carlin's next Friday.

Republicans, you who profess you are the best management of the Federal Government at the hands of the Democratic party, hoping by their legislation to know the policy of your party to be for the people's interest, answer this query of the Georgetown Times, will you?

If the Republicans are so anxious to place the entire responsibility on the Democratic party after the 4th of March next, why are some of the managers so industriously engaged now in trying to select several United States Senators?

Hon. C. M. Clay Jr. has written a card in which he pledges himself and his friends not to use money for any improper purpose should he conclude to enter the contest for United States Senator. He further asks others who may enter the race to do likewise. It brings the thing of home to our eyes to see that it is necessary for men who aspire to the honorable position of United States Senator from the State of Kentucky, to write such a card as Mr. Clay has seen fit to lodge. For the good name of our legislators is as every such a state of things exists. For the reputation of the men to be exalted for the high honor as sent in the upper House of Congress, we are sorry such a declaration as that made by Mr. Clay should be deemed necessary. We hope to see a contest so clean when the voting time shall come, as to put it beyond question that the men Kentucky made to fill Mr. Carlisle's place were untainted of bribery.

THAT POST OFFICE REMOVAL.

Some parties personally interested, (so much so, that they are willing to subscribe to an amount to pay the rent of a building) are circulating a petition to have the post-office removed to the corner of Main and Broadway, or to Judge McKee's building on Main Street.

The effort arises from a purely selfish idea on the part of some, that it would bring business in that direction, but any argument against its present situation is equally applicable to the proposed location. To talk about having to pass hotels, saloons, etc., is equally applicable to one part of the city as to the other. One-half of the city has to do this anyway, in getting to the post-office, let it be at either place. Those in the Northern and Eastern part of the city have been doing this same thing for years, and the other portion of the inhabitants for only a few months. There is simply nothing in this. At present the post-office is located in quite a convenient position to the business portion of the city, and it occupies a much more commodious room, which is better heated, lighted and ventilated than the room to which it is proposed to be removed. The kick comes from a few, only, who for selfish reasons (and we do not blame them) who desire its removal. Let us give you a pointer, it will be removed for the present.

Indications are quite flattering for a coal famine in Mt. Sterling. The rail being made on dealers is very heavy and the daily receipts are so small that a draw on the storage has become very heavy. Every effort possible on part of the dealers will be made to keep the supply equal to the demand.

Do you Catch? We join our exchange in publishing the following clipping, hoping it may be a note of warning to our readers. One reader is cautioned against sitting at puzzle pictures and word-puzzle advertisements, which promise big sums to the person who gives the correct solution. In most every case these advertisements are rank fraud. Apparently so easy to solve that a child could read them, they either contain a catch of some kind, or the advertiser simply pockets the money you are required to send with each solution, and you never hear any more of it.

Ex-Gov. Simon Douver Buckner is reported as saying he will not be a candidate for United States Senator in the event of Mr. Carlisle's expected resignation.

Mr. Carlisle's resignation will be forth coming at once.

Gambler. It is said that there are divers deus in our city, and that the rascals are always on the alert and never lose an opportunity to try their hands in devious the young and unsuspecting into these places of liguity to try their luck. Where their hands are, we can not say positively, but if it was our business to ascertain, we do not believe it would be a hard job to find them. By them, young men are being deprived of their earnings, intemperance and debauchery invited and lives wrecked. Frequent raids by the officers would cause some slight young men to give up this their means of living, to abandon unlawful pursuits and become applicants for positions and honest toil.

The Chiles-Thompson Grocery Co., celebrates their 25 anniversary in business by placing increased advertising. A half column appears in the Advocate of this week. That this firm has prospered and grown fast during the past 25 years is evidenced of their high standing and their popular business methods. They purchase in quantities that enable them to lead with the closest markets represented on the road, and from these large wholesale purchases and bargain prices, they furnish their retail department, and hence their offerings are from the best stocks and at close prices; and this makes them leaders in the retail trade as well. Last year this firm concluded to cut down expenses by reducing advertising, but one year's business without advertising satisfied them that it would not do. They had a good business, but it did not have that push they desired, and hence they have concluded that money wisely invested in advertising brings large returns. Each successive week something new and interesting will be found in their pages. Every bargain will be made known to the trade. Their retail department is well filled with choice goods and to this they will call special attention.

We ask the attention of our readers to the advertisement of J. R. Wilson agent for the National Home Building and Loan Association, of Bloomington, Ill. They make a fine showing and parties desiring investments, can not do any better than to place money, with this company. Total gain from beginning to July, 1892, is 23.52 per cent. Mr. Wilson can be found in his office in the Tyler-Apperson building, always ready to talk business and explain the workings of his company.

For Rent. We have for rent, a comfortable house, with about 23 acres of good land attached. Fifteen acres for corn and seven for tobacco. Money rent preferred. Call at this office, 23-41.

A. Hoffman has enlarged his office in the Traders Deposit building, and now has one of the best offices in the State. His insurance business is increasing in same proportion as his office. His companies are all of the highest standing and losses are promptly paid. This has always been the reputation of the Hoffman agency.

Penix and son, of Olympia, are in for a clearance sale. Goods will go way down. Now is the time to secure great bargains, and if you have not the ready cash, it is better to borrow, than to let these bargains slip through your fingers.

Sunday morning, from a defective flu, the residence of B. F. Robinson, on Sycamore Street, caught fire and was observed in time to be extinguished by a few buckets of water.

Mr. Benjamin Phillips, a well known citizen of this county, died at the home of his nephew, J. W. Henry, on Friday Jan. 13, 1893. Mr. Phillips was a bachelor and sixty two years of age at the time of his death. He was a surveyor by profession and some thirty five years ago he came to this county from Virginia, a poor man, and by his honesty, industry and frugality had accumulated quite a snug competence. A quiet citizen he tried to live at peace with all men and now that he is gone no man has ought to remember save gentleness and kindness of him. He had made his home at his nephew's for many years and was greatly attached to him and his family. Though without wife or children to soothe his last hours he did not lack for kind attention, for as he had given love and kindness to them when he was in health, so they returned it with interest when he was in need of those kind offices, that money cannot buy. Tenderly he was cared for and all was done that lay in human power to soothe his dying pillow.

Stockholders Meeting. There will be a meeting of the stock holders of the North Middletown and Mt. Sterling Turnpike Road Co., on Saturday February 4, 1893, at Side View for the purpose of electing officers and meeting gates on said road the directors reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Something like 100 fourth-class post offices were raised at the beginning of the new year to the dignity of Presidential offices, and President Harrison has been sending in to the Senate the names of appointees to fill for the next four years the vacancies thus created. The Democratic Senators, however, are of the opinion that this matter should be left to the incoming administration, and it is probable they will interpose objections to the confirmation of these nominees, so that Democratic postmasters may be appointed in these cases. There is an object in this and the President doubtless thinks this action on his part would be of help to the Republican party 4 years hence. What he does now can be offset by the Democrats four years hence and it will be as broad as it is long. These postmasters will be anxious to continue and they will be good Democrats by that time.

Moisture Killing Bees.

The old-fashioned straw hives had at least this advantage, especially if a roof covered them. They were porous, and if sheltered, dry, thus allowing a large absorption of the moisture which the bees make in the hive below. Many modern-built hives are in lack of ventilation. It is hard to give the right ventilation without leaving the bees to cold winds, some porous substance to slowly absorb moisture and admit air to place over the ventilating aperture.—American Cultivator.

To Relieve Choked Gabbie.

Take of the finest chewing tobacco enough to make a ball the size of a hen's egg, dampen it with molasses so it adheres closely, elevate the animal's head, pull out the tongue and crowd it as far down the throat as possible. In fifteen minutes it will cause sickness and vomiting, relaxing the muscles so that the apple or whatever was choking it will be thrown up. This remedy never was known to fail.—Practical Dairyman.

Farmers sharpen their intellects by reading, says a Texas paper. They are now wise, learn all about new methods and improvements in agriculture, and the literary part of their reading makes them better writers and talkers—something greatly to be esteemed in this age, when our farmers are coming to the front in public affairs.

The Carriage Press says: The Agricultural meeting which closed its sessions in this city Tuesday, has been full of interest and profit to all who were interested therein and those members from abroad will return to their homes well pleased with the knowledge gained with what they have seen of our city, county and people.

An exchange tells of a French vineyardist who obtained $2.00 of potatoes per acre. He selected the best and soundest seed potatoes, plowed the land very deeply and manured it heavily. He also sowed the potatoes 24 hours in a solution made by dissolving six pounds of sulphate and six pounds of sulphate of ammonia in 25 gallons of water; then he allowed them to drain and stand for 24 hours for their buds to swell before planting them.

The action of Theodore E. Allen to recover $30,000 from W. S. Kimball & Co., for services in organizing the Gazette trust, which had been on trial several days before Justice Ingraham, of the Supreme Court, N. Y., was withdrawn, as a settlement has been reached. The compromise provides for the withdrawal of the other four suits against other original members of the trust, but counsel would not disclose the terms of the compromise.

"Rah for Louisville."

The tobacco snuff on the Louisville market last year brought the very handsome sum of nearly $12,000,000. Cincinnati can put that in her pipe and smoke it.—Louisville Times.

Two Historical Women.

[From the Santa Clara (Cal.) Journal.] "There are two people who got their name from the Santa Clara post-office who names were a household word during the war of the rebellion. They are Mrs. Winchester, widow of the inventor of the famous Winchester rifle, a weapon that did such deadly and effective work during the stormy days of the sixties. The other is Miss Sarah Brown, daughter of "Old John Brown," of Harper's Ferry fame, whose soul goes marching on." Both of these ladies are well known in Santa Clara, being seen on our streets almost daily.

Near Jaxa, Wash., an avalanche of snow, boulders and trees overwhelmed a train crew. Three Italians were buried and 25 escaped. The engineer and fireman were also killed.

That was a dramatic termination to a gay social gathering at Puttstown, Pa., the other night. A large number of young people had a gathering at the home of Myers Pollock. All went merrily until it was time for the wine. Then Nathan Pollock, the aged father of Myers Pollock, took a bottle, poured out a cup of the liquid, raised it and proposed a toast for his son and the company. He drained the glass and groaned aloud. The liquid was carbonic acid, which he, partially blind, had mistaken for wine. Pollock died in less than half an hour.

The story of the discovery of emerald alkali worth $70,000 at Everett, Wash., in the trunks of l'Abbe de la Croix de Castries and Mme. de la Chaise created much comment at San Francisco, Cal. The Abbe is a nephew of Mme. McMahon, wife of Marshal McMahon, and a member of one of the most aristocratic families of France. The two had 80 trunks when arrested. There is likely to be bloodshed on Section 36, Township 1, Los Angeles County, California. The State of California sold the land to settlers, who have improved it to a value of $200,000. Recently the Secretary of the Interior decided that the State never owned that section and received other land in lieu thereof. Under this decision parties from Los Angeles are trying to take possession.

Politics and Penalties.

[From the Detroit Free Press.] It is singular that it should so happen that the very close State of Indiana should be favored above all others in the matter of penitentiaries. There are a good many other peculiar things about the administration of the Penitentiary Bureau.

Salt, in moderation, is a great help to digestion in all animals, especially those which are put up to faten. It causes them to eat more, stimulates digestion and preserves the general health.

It has been proved by exact experiment that the keeping of apples depends upon the integrity and completeness of the natural varnish on their skins. When this was gently rubbed off, the fruit soon lost five per cent more of its weight by evaporation than did samples left intact but similarly stored. And apples with the waxy coating unharmed did not decay for a long time, although smeared with mold and kept in a moist and warm place.

Do we not keep too many pigs in the same pen? Even if of the same litter, if the litter be large, some will get the advantage of others and crowd the weaker ones away from the trough. We do not blame pigs for this. It is their nature, and the pig that does not try to make a big hog of itself is not worth much.

Sunflower Seeds in Winter.

The winter season is the time to use sunflower seeds. They are rich in nitrogen and also contain enough oil to assist in the growing warms. They approach lusciousness somewhat in composition, and serve as an agreeable change from grain. Nothing is so beneficial in the way of giving a shining gloss to the plumage as sunflower seeds, and they are best of all foods for moulting hens. One quart for a dozen hens is sufficient, and three times a week is often enough. If at first the hens will not eat them, give nothing else, for as soon as they are compelled to eat the seeds, and find that they are better than grain, they will afterwards accept them greedily.—Mirror and Farmer.

We know of farmers where the cost of keeping stock through the winter neutralizes the profit made on it in the summer; but upon such farms we find no silo, no root crops are grown and stored, and much of the corn-fodder is permitted to go to waste in the fields.—Indiana Farmer.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking ten bottles, found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore, large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

A team of American amateur bicycle riders will be taken to the antipodes to compete against the Australians their expenses to be defrayed by the Australians.

A good way to tell when to use new milk from the cow, says American Dairyman, is to bring a sample of it to a boil and if it curdles then do not use it, but if it remains limpid it is all right. This test should be used always, before sending milk to the factory though perhaps it is not important when the milk is carried on a route through this colostrum tends to save the milk in warm weather.

The Maine Farmer speaks of a family who divided a churning of butter, but one-half in months and stamped it with the maker's name or name of the farm, and put the other half in the same weight of balls in the old form, without stamp, and asked 5 cents more per ball for the stamped, and the stamped all sold first and the unstamped went off slow. There is a lesson in this for whoever can read and learn it.

A Chicago special to the Courier-Journal states that the whisky trust has formally adopted the Tammelin process and will commence to use it immediately. It is claimed the process reduces the cost from 12 to 1.8 cents for a given quantity of alcohol and effects a saving of 17-cents on a barrel of small grain.

Notes for Women.

After trimming the lamp wick turn it down.

Ordinary sticking plaster is recommended for corns.

For hicough try a lump of sugar saturated with vinegar.

For sore throat apply a cloth wrung out of salt water. The cloth should be covered with a towel.

Hot alum water is said by some to be the best remedy for hemorrhoids. After desisting alum in hot water apply with brush to crack, chaps, bedsores, etc.

It is said that if frost-bitten feet are soaked for half an hour in a strong solution of alum water a cure will be effected, with not more than two applications.

An exchange gives the following remedy for diphtheria: Place a live coal in the bowl of a common tobacco pipe, draw a little tar on it and draw the smoke into the mouth, discharging it through the nostrils.

A spectacle wiper is something a little girl can make for grandma, says the St. Louis Magazine. Cut two leaves out of chamomile and vein them with green silk. Fasten them together at the top and attach a little bow of ribbon with loop by which it is to be fastened to a dress button, so that it will be handy when wanted.

Mr. Murphy received eighty-five votes and the Hon. Bourke Cockran five, though no one had any authority to present the latter's name.

A number of Boston business houses were destroyed by fire Tuesday the loss being estimated at $1,655,000. Several firemen were injured by a falling wall. Joseph F. Parker, a reporter for the Transcript, is missing, and it is believed that he was burned beneath a falling wall and killed.

Senator McMillan introduced a bill in the Minnesota Legislature Tuesday which provides for the selection of the Presidential electors in accordance with the plan now in vogue in Michigan, whereby each Congressional district elects one and two are chosen at large.

The absconding cashier of the Brussels branch of the New York Life Insurance Company was arrested Monday on the complaint of the manager, who accused him of misappropriating money belonging to the concern. The cashier confessed.

A Wedding Present.

Why is not linen given more as a wedding present? Save in large quantities, when some generous god-mother or aunt stocks the linen closet for the bride, it is rarely thought of, and yet it would make a most acceptable present even in the smallest quantities. A dozen beautiful marked towels, or a tablecloth with a dozen napkins to match; or, what is very seldom seen in the linen press nowadays, but what can still be bought at the large linen emporiums, genuine hand-made linen sheets. A pair of these with wide hemstitched tops and bottoms would be thoroughly appreciated by any dainty lady who looked forward to her own linen closet as almost the best part of her future establishment.—Irish Times.

Frederick W. Hulsekooper and Reuben Foster, Receivers of the Richmond & Danville Railroad, have obtained from Judge O'Brien, of the Supreme Court, an attachment against the property of the Central Railroad and Banking Company of Georgia in suit to recover $1213,405, 29 for money laid out and expended for the use of the defendant—the Central Railroad Company—in discharging the accrued interest on the defendant's mortgage bonds and in paying other debts of the defendant between December, 1891 and April 1892.

How's this—$12.50 for Suits and Overcoats—Every hit as satisfactory as any you will find for $15 elsewhere.

The price stands in the way with some folks—They haven't overcome the prejudice that what's worth wearing must necessarily cost a good smart sum—We can surprise every one of such people with our $12.50 line—Showing suit after suit and overcoat after overcoat that you'd take from a tailor as O. K.—and pay him his $20 or $25 for making it—Yet here they are at $12.50—hundreds of them—Single and Double-Breasted Sack Suits—Three and Four Button Cutaway Frocks—and Single and Double-Breasted Overcoats and Ulsters—We are just as certain we can fit you as we are that we're in business.

Dr. G. C. Osborn, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the true interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchinson, Conway, Ark.
